

How to define the hub at church halls

I should like to respond to the letter from Miss Hewlett of Tenterden in last week's Kentish Express regarding the definition of a "hub".

Tenterden Community Hub was mentioned in last week's Kentish Express to inform the public about our forthcoming annual general meeting.

The purpose of our "hub" is as a central place of safety and a warm welcome, based in the Meeting Rooms at St Mildred's Church Halls.

There, people from all over the local area with social or financial problems, or who are struggling in other ways, can come and meet volunteers who provide information and support in a confidential manner.

I hope the foregoing reinforces the definition given in the editor's note below Miss Hewlett's letter.
